Parksville and District Rock and Gem Club (PDRGC)

Objectives:

- To promote and encourage the study, collecting, cutting, polishing and engraving of gemstones, minerals, rocks and other geological materials as a hobby
- To encourage exploration of Vancouver Island for rocks and minerals
- To promote and encourage association and information exchange with other hobbyists
- To sponsor and support activities that aid in sharing knowledge and expertise about all aspects of this hobby

History:

The club was originally formed as the "69's Club of Coombs". In May 1984 it assumed its current name and was welcomed as a member of the provincial BCLS.

Members:

Members vary in knowledge and experience, but everyone shares an interest in rocks, minerals, gems and/or lapidary. Experienced members share their knowledge, and beginners are encouraged to ask questions and attend demonstrations as well as participate in workshops and field trips.

Programs:

Talks and demonstrations:

Presentations are given at the meetings by specialists in the field. Topics include lapidary techniques, jewellery- making, accounts from field trips and other related activities.

Time is also allotted for members to give a "show-and-tell" of their latest finds or creations.

Field trips:

A wagon master organizes field trips based on membership interest and level of mobility. The goal is to have at least six field trips each year. A liability waiver must be signed for each trip.

Workshops:

In addition to the monthly meetings the club offers occasional workshops to learn new skills or improve existing ones. These depend on availability of instructors and membership interest.

Pebble Pups:

Junior members have opportunities to do a variety of rock related activities in age-specific programs.

Lapidary Shop/Clubhouse:

Our shop is located at Unit 0 – 2458 Alberni Hwy, Coombs. The shop is available for use by trained members when a supervisor is present. Available times and sign up are found on our website through Google docs.

Shows:

During the year various Rock and Gem Shows are held throughout the province. Members may participate in these shows to promote and sell their own products. The club creates at least one showcase to be featured at all Vancouver Island Shows and our club organizes a show in the fall. Member support is very much appreciated.

Vancouver Island Zone Meetings and Gemboree, and B.C.L.S. Gem Show and Rendezvous: Members may attend these events. For information, please check relevant websites.
